Build a Christmas Village

Here is a Christmas scene that's sure to take the spotlight in any holiday home. Make it the focal point in this year's Yuletide celebration. Display it under your tree or on a table or mantel.

If you happen to have a Christmas bazaar coming up, you'll probably want to make a number of these villages. They're sure to be one of your hottest-selling articles.

Think what a wonderful gift this village would make! Your friend who receives it will always remember you, as she sets up her village every year.

All you need to make these stucco-like houses and church, as well as the trees and Santa and his sleigh, are pulp meat trays. Use only the flat bottom sections.

For each building, make a paper pattern first. Follow the measurements which are shown in inches. Note the dimensions do not include the $\frac{1}{4}$ " tabs for gluing.

Using either scissors or a sharp knife, cut the basic shapes. For scor-
